FRESHMAN ARTS NIGHT

Come join your student-artist for a fun filled evening of visual, culinary and theater art! Freshman students will showcase extraordinary examples of their work to be appreciated by all.

Students' academic portfolios (Digication) will be up and running for each student all night in the computer room on the 4th floor for attendees to browse.

Visual Arts will showcasing portfolio pieces, as well as projects that are in progress. Work will be displayed with student's "Artist's Statements."

Culinary Arts will serve up delectable goodies for all to sample. Students will be presenting "Fresh Starts," individual appetizers; each piece a part of the whole. They will proudly provide insight into their piece and decision to pursue the culinary path.

Theater will present a performance of the short play "The Great Pandemonium" for your entertainment. Student actors will also be available for questions after their performances.

Participation in this event is required for all freshmen and counts as a project grade in their respective art. If a student-artist cannot attend a parent or guardian needs to sign the slip below and return it to the Academic Dean so an alternate project may be assigned. Failure to do so will result in a project grade of zero.

If your student CANNOT attend Freshman Arts Night on Wednesday May 27, 2009 please sign the slip below and return to the Academic Dean (Mr. Skelden).

My student _____ will be unable to attend the Freshman Arts Night on Wednesday, May 27th at 6:30pm. I understand that to make up this project grade they will be assigned an alternate project by the Academic Dean.
